

8 ARE FINED $210 ON PARK VIOLATIONS

Fines totaling $210 were assessed against eight drivers after hearings before U. S. Commissioner Ronald J. Hagaman Friday on violations alleged to have been committed in the Gettysburg National Park over a period of several months. A ninth defendant failed to appear.

One driver was fined a total of $55 on four charges including that of speeding up to 80 miles an hour on West Confederate Ave. while being pursued by a Park ranger in a patrol car which had its red light flashing and siren sounding.

Roy Weaver, Biglerville R. 2, drew the $55 fine for his series of violations which occurred about 11:15 o'clock the night of July 4 during the Gettysburg Fire Company's fireworks display.

IGNORED SIGNALS

The report on his case showed that two Park rangers, William Rabenstein and Thomas Brown, who were directing traffic on W. Confederate Ave., saw a car coming toward them "at a high rate of speed between a double row of parked cars of people watching the fireworks display." Ranger Brown stepped onto the avenue in an effort to stop the speeding car by hand signals. He was ignored as the car sped south. Brown gave chase. Speeds "exceeding 80 miles an hour were reached before the driver of the fleeing car ran through the stop sign at W. Confederate and the Eisenhower Rd. where he swung right. The chase continued for three miles toward Fairfield before the operator turned off the road, turned off his lights and made another turn.

Meanwhile Ranger Rabenstein notified Brown by radio that he had the license number of the fleeing car and Brown gave up the chase to avoid possible injury to himself or the occupants of the car he was chasing. Investigation showed that Weaver was the driver of the car which was owned by Eules "Jack" Price, Gettysburg R. 2.

OTHER VIOLATIONS

Weaver was charged with speeding, reckless driving, a stop sign violation and failure to obey an officer's signal. Price was charged with permitting an operator to drive his vehicle in violation of the law. Price failed to appear Friday.

Milton L. Cline, Waynesboro R. 4, was charged with speeding August 26 on W. Confederate Ave. He was fined $20.

James Smith, Carlisle R. 6, was charged with speeding on N. Reynolds Ave. and with a stop sign violation at the avenue's intersection with the Lincoln Highway on August 29. He was fined a total of $25.

Joseph A. Reaver, Gettysburg R. 2, was charged with speeding on W. Confederate Ave. on August 1 and with a stop sign violation at the Pumping Station Rd. He was fined $35.

MORE SPEEDERS

Robert F. Walter, Windbriar Lane, Gettysburg R. 2, was charged with speeding June 22 on W. Confederate Ave. and was fined $20.

Ronald L. Crouse, Littlestown R. 1, a college student here, was charged with speeding on the Wheatfield Rd. on the battlefield on June 17. He was fined $10.

Richard L. Michael, Chambersburg R. 2, was charged with speeding June 13 on N. Buford Ave. and was fined $25.

PLAN COURSE FOR JUSTICES AND POLICE

The Adams County Bar Association again will sponsor a course in legal education for Adams County justices of the peace, police officers and constables, mayors and other law enforcement officials, to commence in early November and continue weekly.

Bar association officials said it is proposed that the course continue for a "sufficient period that all such officials and officers who complete the course may be awarded a certificate of completion by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, which for a number of years has been promoting various courses of instruction for persons engaged in local government."

Attorney Oscar F. Spicer will be the instructor for the course. Other members of the local bar have volunteered to assist.

NEW PROCEDURE

The bar association announced that instruction is "urgent" for the reason that commencing January 1 "there are new rules of criminal procedure applying to the charging and handling of criminal offenses and offenders before our justices of the peace, such rules making drastic procedural changes effecting the duties of justices, police officers, constables and others."

"It is proposed that instruction on the new rules of criminal procedure will commence at the beginning of the course in November. Both the district attorney and Mr. Spicer will organize and instruct this phase of the course."

Attorney Spicer will give further details by letter to all justices, police departments, constables and mayors, the bar association said.

Manufacturers Must Prove To U.S. Today That 5,000 Drugs Are Safe, Effective

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today is the deadline for makers of nearly 5,000 drugs to submit proof to the government that the drugs are safe and effective.

The 5,000 include most of the important modern medicines your doctor prescribes — and some you buy without prescription.

It is the beginning of a huge review of nearly all the drugs that have entered the U.S. market since 1938 — some 6,000 in number, from the sulfas to the cortisones, from tranquilizers to antihistamines.

WILL TAKE YEARS

It will take years to complete. But, as of today, the Food and Drug Administration must have in its hands reports on 5,000 of the drugs.

The FDA expects full compliance and has not set up punitive action in advance.

The drug makers and their organization, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, have brought suit in Federal Court, challenging the FDA's authority and seeking to exempt some 1,000 long-used, brand

Fires exact a costly toll every day. And despite all the appeals to householders, industrialists and others to eliminate fire hazards fires break out where they shouldn't and in doing so take a toll in human lives and property that runs in the millions.

On the average day fire will destroy 1,500 homes, 135 factories, 120 stores, 30 restaurants, 14 schools, eight churches and two theaters, killing 32 and injuring 4,930 others. The property damage price tag for such a day would be something like $4,357,800.

Property damage has increased 50 percent in six years and has exceeded $1.5 billion in each of the last three years.

The National Fire Protection Association, most active organization in fire prevention education, distributes more than 13,000,000 pieces of literature annually in its campaign against fire.

The association primarily aims its energy at stamping out hazards and bad habits. Chief among the hazards in frequency are heating and cooking grease traps that caused 203,700 fires in 1962 last year they were tabulated, at a cost of $186,000,000.

Electrical fires, though fewer in number (139,800), caused the most damage, just under $200,000,000 according to the NFPA.

Most of these fires can be averted with additional house-keeping and occasional inspection by the man of the house. If he's unfamiliar with wiring and particularly if his home is getting along in years, there are members of his community fire department who usually will gladly drop by to check-out a dwelling.

Registration Fails To Reach 1960 Level Here; 24,060 Eligible To Cast Ballots

Adams County has 24,060 voters eligible to cast their ballots in the November 3 general election, according to the county election board.

For the first time in many years, the presidential election has failed this year to send the registration totals to a new high. There are eight fewer voters eligible to vote now than there were in 1960 for the Kennedy-Nixon contest. The GOP margin in 1960 in this county was only 896 votes.

Tabulation of the list shows a gain of 1,472 voters over the 22,588 on the rolls last spring.

It also shows the Democrats making a slight gain on the Republicans. At the present time there are 12,815 Republicans and 10,862 Democrats and 383 non-partisan voters.

DEMOCRATS GAIN 22

The Republicans thus have a 1,953 majority over the Democrats in number of voters registered, compared to a 1,975 lead last spring, or a gain of 22 for the Democrats since the primary. According to the tabulation, the Republicans gained 692 voters, the Democrats gained 715 and the nonpartisans increased by 75 since the tabulation prior to the primary election.

The list of voters shows the women continue to gain on the men and the day apparently is not too far distance when there will be as many women voters as men in the county. At present the number of men, 12,206, is just 352 more than the number of women, 11,846. Last May the men had a lead of 839, with 11,854 male and 11,007 female voters on the rolls.

In Gettysburg the women outnumber the men voters 1,945 to 1,661. This year marks the first time that the number of women Republican voters and the number of women Democratic voters outnumber the men in each of the four voting districts.

The town has a total of 3,608 voters, of which 2,126 are Republican, 1,396 Democratic and 84 nonpartisan. The number of Republican women is 1,134 compared to 992 men. The number of Democratic women is 773 compared to 623 men. Among the (Continued On Page 2)

WATER TOWER IS DEMOLISHED

An 85-foot vertical water tower at North St. and Oxford Rd., McSherrystown, was demolished by employees of Maitland Brothers Construction Company, Littlestown R. 2, Friday afternoon in preparation of erection of a 197-foot-tall ball-tower, as part of the $4,600,000 modernization program of the Hanover Municipal Water Company.

The tower was originally erected by the former McSherrystown Water Company, organized in 1893. Water was pumped from a spring along Second St., McSherrystown, now the site of Walter's swimming pool, to the storage tower where it was fed by gravity to consumers in McSherrystown.

The company became part of the former Hanover and McSherrystown Water Company in 1905, which was purchased by the Hanover borough in 1932, present owners of the company.

The standpipe tower was 18 feet in circumference and held approximately 110,000 gallons of water. The new tower, which will be erected by Chicago Bridge and Iron Company, will have storage facilities for 250,000 gallons of water to increase services in the McSherrystown area.

Dentist Burns To Death In His Car; Wife Is Held

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Gordon E. Miller, a dentist, is dead, burned to death in his blazing car. His wife, Lucille, 34, a slim, dark-haired mother of three, is in jail, booked for investigation of murder.

Detectives say that Mrs. Miller — in a calm, quiet, unemotional voice — declines to discuss the answers to these questions:

What caused the fire?

Why couldn't her husband get out?

Why was there an empty gasoline can in the back of the car?

Why did it take from 12:34 a.m. — when the fire started — until 1:45 a.m. to reach a home a half-mile away to telephone for help?

Dr. Miller, 39, died early Wednesday in the right front seat of his leased small car.

When Highway Patrol officers reached the residence from which Mrs. Miller had telephoned, her attorney was already there. Together they led authorities to the still-blazing car.

TELLS HER STORY

At the scene officers said Mrs. Miller told them this story:

She and her husband were driving home from an all-night market when, three miles from

Kidnap Yankee Officer Will Be Killed If Red Terrorist Is Executed

By PAUL FINCH

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Anonymous telephone callers have warned that a kidnapped U.S. Air Force officer will die unless the life of a condemned Red terrorist in South Viet Nam is spared.

The threat against Lt. Col. Michael Smolen, 45, deputy chief of the U.S. mission to Venezuelan forces, was made Friday night in phone calls to The Associated Press and other news media. Identifying themselves as pro-Communist terrorists, they said Smolen would die an hour after the execution of Nguyen Van Troi, a Viet Cong. The calls were reported to U.S. and Venezuelan officials.

KIDNAPPING SUNDAY

A terrorist gang kidnapped Smolen at gunpoint Friday morning in a daring act similar to other abductions carried out by the outlawed pro-Castro Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN). His whereabouts remained unknown today as police stepped up a massive search.

Troi, 19, has been convicted for an unsuccessful attempt to bomb a bridge that was to be used last May by U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on a visit to South Viet Nam. He was sentenced to die in August.

SUSPECT REDS

Venezuelan authorities suspected Communists hostile to the U.S.-backed government here had staged the kidnapping. They said the telephone calls threatening Smolen's life were typical FALN tactics designed to get as much publicity from the abduction as possible.

In Washington U.S. State Department officials said Smolen and other embassy employees in Caracas had been warned that such a kidnapping might be staged. Smolen had taken certain precautions, the officials said.

It was understood that the State Department was asking the U.S. Embassy in Saigon for a report on the Troi case. The South Vietnamese government declined comment when asked whether Troi would be executed soon.

STUDY DEAL

In Saigon U.S. diplomats were reported to be studying the proposed deal. One informant said Troi had been sentenced to die next Thursday, but other sources were uncertain whether an execution date had been set. They held out the possibility Troi might get a last-minute reprieve anyway because of his age.

"The Venezuelans have assured us they would use all the police facilities at their disposal to obtain Col. Smolen's release, a State Department official said.

QUENCH CAR FIRE

Bare wires in the engine compartment of a 1950 model automobile have been blamed by firemen for a fire which broke out about 8:29 Thursday evening, at the rear of the Clearview Shopping Center, Hanover. One pump from the Hanover Fire Co. was dispatched. Dry chemicals were used in dousing the flames in the sedan, operated by Helena Goulden, East Berlin R. 2.

Delone PTA To Hold Benefit Sale Oct. 30

Final arrangements for the annual rummage and bake sale to be held by the Delone Catholic High School Parent-Teacher Association, were completed at the meeting of the executive board held on Thursday evening in the faculty room at the high school. Russell Zimmerman, president, conducted the session, which opened and closed with prayer by the principal, the Rev. William R. Lyons. Mrs. Marguerite Fraumeni presented the secretary's report.

The rummage and bake sale will be held on October 30 and 31 in the American Legion Home, Hanover, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday and 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday. On Sunday, October 25, the school cafeteria will be open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. for patrons to take their contributions for the rummage sale. Articles may also be left at the school cafeteria during the week prior to October 25. Names and addresses of those who wish to have their donations called for should be forwarded to the president. Parish representatives will go to the cafeteria on Tuesday, October 27, to sort and mark the clothing and a crew of men will be recruited to move the clothing and other rummage to the Legion home on Thursday, October 29. Women are needed to assist with the sale on Friday and Saturday and anyone desiring to volunteer may get in touch with their parish representative or Mrs. Mark L. Redding and Mrs. Matthew Gabrys, who are co-chairmen for this annual fund raising event. A committee of men will be needed at 12 noon on Saturday, October 31, to clean the hall at the conclusion of the sale. All unsold articles will be given to the Bishop's Throwing clothing collection or to Catholic Charities.

There was a discussion on the advisability of preparing a bulletin or brochure to be made available to parents of Delone students, outlining the rules of the school, giving pertinent information about the calendar of events such as the class parties and other information which parents would like to know. A committee consisting of the principal, the vice president, James G. Sneeringer and Mrs. Paul E. Altoff was appointed to prepare this information.

Parents who have suggestions for the type of information which they would like to appear in a prepared format are asked to forward their suggestions to the principal at the high school prior to Thursday, October 15. The vice president spoke briefly concerning the results of a panel on education in which he participated recently, the needs of Catholic schools which could be taken care of through the assistance of interested laymen and laywomen and there was discussion with suggestions being made in various areas, such as helping the nuns with the teaching of Christian doctrine to Catholic children attending public schools. It was also suggested that prior to the PTA meetings that parents prepare in advance questions concerning phases of school policy or practice which they would like to have explained, so that answers can also be prepared in advance. It was again noted that letters should be sent to the Congressman regarding the possibility of the establishment of an area technical school.

Father Lyons spoke with regard to efforts which could be made to help overcome the seeming disinterest of too many parents and students in the matter of Catholic education, the importance of impressing on the youthful mind the necessity of taking advantage of the opportunities which are available in the school.

Clothier Drops Electronic Accounting For Human Touch

By CHARLES MAHER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — So many companies were turning to automation that people began to wonder where it would all end.

Well, it already has ended at the clothing firm of Phelps-Terkel, which operates six stores in the Los Angeles area. The company decided that its punch-card accounting system had too many holes in it and that automation ought to go.

So, with their latest monthly statements, Phelps-Terkel customers received a machine card with this message on the back: "Please fold, bend, mutilate and staple."

LAST PUNCHED CARD

And, on the front: "You are holding the last punched card you'll ever receive from Phelps-Terkel. We've tried to make our peace with automation. But it hasn't worked. Ours is just not a machine business."

"Consequently, we are reverting to our slightly archaic yet highly personalized accounting methods. We think you'll like our new-old billing method better. We know we will."

Dave Phelps, firm president, said this bold step backward was applauded by customers. One wrote: "Thank God for people."

TECHNICAL PROBLEMS

"We automated a little less than a year ago," Phelps said. "Some people closed their accounts because they didn't feel a business like ours should."

And, Phelps said, there were technical problems.

"One time," he said, "a janitor got a check for $5,000 for two weeks' work."

"The question was whether a small company like ours would be getting enough out of it to make it worth while."

When the decision was made, the store's advertising firm was called on to compose the notice to customers.

"We saw this as an opportunity to appeal to humanness," said Tom Faust, an advertising man.

TEACHERS WILL REPORT VOTES FOR NETWORKS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania State Education Association announced today that it is organizing an army of 10,000 member teachers to report results of the Nov. 3 election.

The teachers organization, manning each of the approximately 9,280 polling places in state, will report the vote for president, U.S. senator and candidates for Congress.

They will telephone individual precinct results, as soon as they become available, to Network Election Service, headquartered in Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

Network Election Service is a pool arrangement created by the National Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting Co., American Broadcasting Co., Associated Press and United Press International.

(The Associated Press will have a separate operation to report results of all other contests not covered by the Network Election Service.)

The PSEA announcement said that some 800 persons would be on duty in Convention Hall to receive the telephoned results, tabulate the vote, and distribute running totals to the news media participants.

BOSTON BOWS TO SAN DIEGO FRIDAY NIGHT

BOSTON (AP) — "This definitely was John Hadl's best game ever as a pro. And the victory was an absolute must for us."

Thus did San Diego Coach Sid Gillman sum up his team's 26-17 American Football League triumph over previously unbeaten Boston Friday night.

"We just caught Hadl on a hot night," philosophized the Patriots' Mike Holovak.

"I called audibles on two of my three touchdown passes — and one was a mistake," confessed Hadl.

HAD 40 MARK

Boston entered the game with a 4-0 record and a 33-28 victory over the Chargers, while the defending AFL champions, riddled with injuries, were 1-2-1. When regular quarterback Tobin Rote couldn't get the Chargers going, Hadl took over, completing 17 of 29 passes for 229 yards and a trio of scores, two of them by Lance Alworth, who had played only one quarter in three previous games due to a hamstring muscle pull.

Alworth grabbed eight aerials for 124 yards. Paul Lowe, healthy for the first time, rushed 69 yards and caught a pass for 17.

Oakland is at New York tonight. Sunday, still unbeaten Buffalo (4-0) visits Houston while Kansas City's Western Division leaders invade Denver for the nationally televised test.

CONEWAGO DISCUSSES ITS APPEAL

The Conewago Twp. school board Thursday evening again discussed arguments to be used at a hearing of the Pennsylvania Board of Education concerning an appeal regarding the state board's decision to include the Conewago District in the New Oxford School District.

The Conewago board feels it would be more advantageous to be included with the neighboring Hanover School District.

A letter was read from Attorney Edward B. Bulleit, solicitor, reporting on a prehearing conference held recently in Harrisburg. He informed the board that the state board wanted answers on certain alternatives, but the members decided to withhold making decisions until another meeting could be held with the Hanover school board. The meeting in Harrisburg will be held November 4.

TEACHER RESIGNS

Robert Smith, Conewago Twp. assessor, was given a list of approximately 450 names to be added to the tax rolls. These were mostly new residents, found the past summer by the school census taker, according to J. Arthur Wolfe, school principal. The list also included deletions due to death or moving from the district, he stated.

The resignation of Mrs. Andre Shirk, First Grade teacher, was accepted. Miss Marilyn Blumenthal, 258 Fleming Ave., Hanover, was employed to fill the vacancy. George Inskip, Adams County assistant superintendent of schools, was present in an advisory capacity.

McSherrytown

McSHERRYSTOWN — Members of the Knights of Columbus at a regular meeting decided to present a plaque to the outstanding boy or girl in the Seventh or Eighth Grade at graduation time. The meeting was opened with prayer by Robert Felix and officers' reports were received. Bills were ordered paid.

It was decided the annual turkey party will be held on Friday, November 13, and James Graft and Jean B. Noel were appointed co-chairmen.

A memorial Mass, Communion and breakfast will be held Sunday, November 15, for members and their wives. Twenty-five and 35-year members will be specially honored. Other special dates set included the annual turkey banquet for members and their guests which will be held Sunday, December 13, and the Christmas party for members' children on Sunday, December 20.

Plans were announced for a Columbus Day dance on Saturday, October 17, with Tiny Wright furnishing the music for members and one guest couple. There will be a Halloween dance on Saturday, October 31. Dress will be optional.

Democrat Loses To A Republican

HARRISBURG (AP) — P. James DeMarte of Kane, a Democrat, has been replaced by a Republican as secretary of the state Water and Power Resources Board.

DeMarte's successor in the non-civil service post is James S. Toothaker of Dushore.

The job pays $7,772 annually. Toothaker comes from the office of the governor, where he has served as an administrative officer.

The Republican state organization reportedly has been seeking a replacement for DeMarte since the Scranton administration took office in January 1963.

Small U.N. Member States Have New Proposals On Paying U.N. Assessments

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — New proposals for settling the explosive U.S.-Soviet dispute over how to finance United Nations' peace-keeping operations may come from one or more small member states, informed diplomats said today.

They said such proposals might come at a meeting next Friday of a 21-nation working group, the only place where the United States and the Soviet Union exchange views at length over the crucial issue.

The dispute centers on whether the General Assembly or the Security Council should make peace-keeping assessments and whether the Russians and other nations should lose their assembly vote for refusing to pay assessments levied for Congo and Middle East operations. The United States has served notice it will call a showdown on the issue when the assembly convenes Nov. 10.

FEAR CLASH

Smaller nations are seeking to head off a big-power clash that some fear could drive the Soviet Union out of the United Nations.

Soviet delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko fed that fear when he told the Security Council Friday the United States was "trying to destroy our organization" by insisting that the right to vote in the assembly be denied to countries that have refused to pay Congo and Middle East costs. He spoke at a meeting at which the council unanimously recommended Malawi (Nyasaland) for U.N. membership.

The United States had circulated a memorandum contending that if the Soviet Union and others were still two years behind in their U.N. dues when the assembly met, they should fall under the penalty of U.N. Charter Article 19. The article states that those two years behind "shall have no vote." Ten countries are that far in arrears now for failing to pay peace-keeping costs.

PROVOCATIVE ACT

Fedorenko called the memorandum a "provocative act," violating the charter. He said his government would not pay one kopeck for the Congo and Middle East operations.

A U.S. source said the United States had enough votes to uphold its position on Article 19. He said it could get a simple majority easily and a two-thirds majority if necessary.

A U.S. delegation spokesman said "ample time remains for agreement to be reached before Nov. 10." He opposed any delay in the assembly opening to give more time for negotiations with the U.S.S.R. over the issue.

The spokesman conceded that "some sources have suggested a delay would be desirable."

But a U.N. spokesman said Secretary-General U Thant "is not aware of any such proposal and has not been approached by any government to that effect."

There are other unique aspects of the visit. Almost no flags fly along the streets through which the queen was expected to drive in her bullet-proof limousine. Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
TEN YEARS AGO

Paul C. Myers and his family narrowly escaped serious injury recently near Irwin after a one-ton boulder, loosened by rains, hurtled down a cliff and landed on the highway in front of the Myers car on U.S. 30.
Myers was able to stop the car before it hit the boulder, but the car was damaged when the stone rolled into the car. No one was injured but damage to the car was estimated at $800-$1,000.

The Woman's League of Gettysburg College has set a goal of $50,000 to be reached by 1965
for the conversion of Brua Chapel into a "little theater" for the Dramatics Arts department of the college.

The Gettysburg Concert Association will seek 1,200 members for the forthcoming series of three concerts for the year.
Membership tickets will be $6
for adults and $3 for students.
All concerts will be presented in Christ Chapel, College campus.

Enrollment in Gettysburg schools has increased 33 per cent since 1948, an average of about 90 pupils a year. Total enrollment this year is 1,087
in the elementary schools and 1,010 in the junior-senior high school. The enrollment from Franklin Twp. is responsible for a good part of the increased enrollment.

Approximately 35 Adams
Countians plan to hunt deer with bow and arrow, according to licenses issued in the courthouse. Last year more than 8,000 archers took to the woods in the early season.

Dr. William Flickinger, R. L.
Pittenturf and George Anderson, York Springs, returned from a hunting trip to Canada,
where each bagged a moose in Quebec.

The Gettysburg National Park
office estimates that 500 persons visited the Cyclorama Sunday afternoon during the open-house program opening Pennsylvania Week. The weekend visitations to the Battlefield were estimated at 5,200, with 2,133 persons in private cars and 18 persons in one bus. On Sunday 2,800 persons toured the field.

William Franklin Burgess, 21, Canton, Ohio, blames Pennsylvania highway signs for a crash
on the Lincoln Highway five miles east of here, causing $700 damage to his car. The young driver said he thought a "pavement narrows" sign meant a divided highway. As a result he swerved to avoid striking a parked car along the highway, slammed on his brakes and skidded into the embankment.

The Justice Department said that Alger Hiss will be released from Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary Nov. 27, after serving nearly three years of a five-year sentence for a perjury conviction. He began his sentence on March 22, 1951, and will be required to report periodically to a designated parole officer for the duration of his sentence.

More than 1,000 Holy Name members from 25 parishes and their families filled Conewago Chapel Sunday afternoon at the Mariana Year pilgrimage sponsored by the Southern Regional Union of Holy Name Societies.
The program was broadcast to a crowd which stood outside the chapel.

Today's Talk

THE FAMILY

One wonders if one of the gravest tragedies of the world is not the disappearing family.
Is the magic name of home losing its beautiful glamor of love, companionship, and co-workership?

In the earlier days of our country it was the family that was the cornerstone of all communities. There were the first crude homes, wrought from the forest that surrounded them,
then the growing settlement,
but always the family predominating over all. And they were large families, each child coming to maturity, doing his share in the carrying on of the family tradition.

People then courted, were married, and got right down to the business of life, working and honoring the arrangement made for the establishment of a family. Many of the great fortunes of today were then initiated. The family was respected. There were few divorces. People then took their families seriously.
They were God-fearing folk, too.
Many had family worship every morning and evening. It was a happy way to start and end the day. And this was not unusual for a family in the early nineteen hundreds. There were happy families all about. Little was ever heard of domestic troubles.

The family, the church, and the school are the three fundamental foundation stones to the structure of a happy and stable state. And of the three the most important, and far-reaching in its influence for good, is the family. But of late years its power and influence have slipped. There is less religion in it, for one thing. And with so many outside calls to the young,
fathers and mothers have lost loose much of their individual responsibility, thereby losing much of their authority.

he social center of the home has for the most part been given over to the social center of the dance hall and cocktail bar, or to some other means of entertainment, other than the home where all education and discipline should originate! The happy family, however, shall always remain as the citadel for the protection and continuance of a great nation.

Just Folks

FRIENDS OLD AND NEW
Here's to the old friends true
Who share in all we do
And have learned all our ways
Through many yesterdays.
They are the hearts that share
All that we meet or care;
They are the eyes that see,
Though grave our faults may be,
The good that lies below.
That's way we love them so!

But here's to the happy day
When comes across our way
A new friend, blithe and bold
To join the faithful old.
Glad is the sheltering door
To welcome in one more,
Brighter the fireplace where
We draw another chair,
But happiest, at day's end,
Are we to gain a friend.

KISKI SNARES 5TH STRAIGHT FOOTBALL TILT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unbeaten Kiski Area, a top contender for WPIAL Class AA honors this year, won its fifth straight scholastic football game
of the season, Friday night,
downing New Kensington, 45-0.
Halfback Phil (Jo Jo) Booker scored four touchdowns for the Cavaliers as they overpowered their inexperienced rivals.
In other top action across the state, Greensburg, another powerhouse in the WPIAL Class AA,
routed by Conestoga, 33-2;
Wilkes-Barre Coughlin edged cross-town rival GAR, 9-6, and Waynesboro beat Westminster (Md.) 26-14.

CONVERSION WINS

A conversion kick by Ed Burk proved to be the margin of victory for Coughlin after quarterback Pat Heffron had scored from the two-yard line early in the second period. The play had been set up by Heffron's 57-yard pass to end Barry Davenport at the close of the first quarter.
GAR came back to score on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Herb Godefy to brother, Bill. Herb's conversion was good, but a penalty nullified the kick. The second try was no good.

Late in the first half, GAR punter Jim Moran stepped out of bounds in his own end zone, providing Coughlin with a two-point safety. For Coughlin it was the fourth straight win and kept the team in first place in the Wyoming Valley Conference.

WAYNESBORO WIN

John Schmid scooted for 55 yards and a touchdown on the second play of the game to get Waynesboro started toward its victory over Westminster in a Tri-State League game on the losers' home field. It was the second league win in three

GEORGIA TECH DEFEATS NAVY 17-0 FRIDAY

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
Defense, determination and Bobby Dodd just naturally go together.

Georgia Tech, supposed to be faced with one of those building years, now boasts an unbeaten record and is bidding for national ranking after defeating Navy 17-0 Friday night at Jacksonville, Fla.

True, the Middles weren't their old rollicking selves in the first half with Jolly Roger Staubach unable to play because of an ankle injury. But when the Sailors did get up some post-intermission steam, Tech made stands at its 16, 29, 37 and 12
yard lines.

ALLOWS A POINT

One of major college's foremost defensive teams season in and season out since Coach Dodd took over from Bill Alexander in 1945, Georgia Tech this fall has allowed only nine points and a single touchdown in four games.

Meanwhile a fellow independent, Miami, forced heavily-favored California to settle for a 9-7 decision built on Tom Blanchfield's third-quarter field goal.

Miami has been riddled by the loss of 17 players, six of them starters, via academic troubles and disciplinary action. But if there is a football merit badge for courage, the sophomore-laden Hurricanes must have earned it.

They held super-passer Craig Morton fairly well in check except for the eight-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Mosher and the 40-yard aerial on which the same pair collaborated to set it up. And an interception was the first against Morton since late last season.

pion, against Oklahoma in

GOP LEADING REGISTRATION IN 48 AREAS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republicans are in the lead in registration in 48 counties that have certified their totals for the Nov. 3 election.

Ten of the counties certified their totals to the Bureau of Elections Friday, boosting the GOP from a small deficit to a small lead.

With 48 counties reporting, Republicans show 924,015 registered voters to 900,815 for the Democrats.

Yet to be heard from, however, are Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties, the commonwealth's largest Democratic strongholds.

Three days ago, the Democrats held a 25,030 edge with 38
counties on the ledger.

Nineteen county totals are still outstanding.

The latest registration figures showed the widest margin for either party in Schuylkill County. There the Republicans chalked up 63,379 registered voters to the Democrats' 36,106.

The other nine counties just reporting are Bedford, Columbia, Indiana, Juniata, Lehigh, Mercer, Northumberland, Union
and Warren.

In the April primary, Democrats led Republicans by 2,654-404 to 2,642,770.

Littlestown High School put up another gallant battle Friday evening but eventually bowed to South Western 20-13 in a York County League football game played before a large crowd on the Thunderbolts' field. It was the fifth successive loss for winless Littlestown and the third win against a loss and tie for the Mustangs.

The Bolts held a 13-7 edge at half time after Jim Blocher scored on the last play of the second period but the visitors tallied once each in the last two frames to snatch the decision.

There was no score in the first period but Littlestown made a big bid for a touchdown after Bob Horner pounced on a Mustang fumble on the South Western 49 to give the Bolts possession. Louie Orndorff, Greg Myers and Terry Pottoff carried for two straight first downs to the 20 but the Mustangs braced and took the ball at the 11 shortly before the period ended.

BOLTS SCORE

As the second quarter got underway Phil George was forced to punt from his end zone and the ball carried only to the 22 from where Littlestown struck for a score. Jim Blocher tossed to Terry Pottoff for a first down on the 10 from where Pottoff raced over on the next play. On a fake kick, Blocher passed to Jim Strevig for the point, the first made by the Bolts this season.

South Western roared right back after returning the ensuing kickoff to its 49. With Dean Geiman, a brilliant ball carrier throughout the evening, leading the assault, South Western scored on 11 plays as Don Laurence dove over from the one with 4:31 left in the half. George kicked the tying point.

Bill Heyser's outfit went 54 yards on 15 plays for the lead score after returning the kickoff to the 36. Battling the clock all the way, time and again went out.

The Squires picked up two more touchdowns in the third quarter. The first came early in the stanza on a 63-yard advance which featured a 34-yard pass play from Reese to Bill Shrader putting the ball on the St. Francis 17. After Emig got six yards at left end, Reese fired a screen pass to Elliott for the six-point. The score came after 3:30 minutes of action.

Just five plays later the Squires chalked up their final touchdown when Dave Knox, a Gettysburg product, gathered in a punt by Maurice Fullerton on the Delone 46 and raced 54 yards into the end zone.

Of the final quarter and more than held their own with their rivals from Spring Grove. Late in the period St. Francis secured possession of the ball on the Squires' 38-yard line and took to the air only to have George Emig pick off a pass by Fazio on the 14. Bill Lynch raced around left end for 14 yards for a first down and just before the game ended Timmins punted to Fazio who returned to his 48.

Next Friday evening the Squires meet always powerful Carlisle at McSherrystown.

DUCK SEASON OPENED TODAY AT SUNRISE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's 1964 duck season got under way at sunrise today with thousands of hunters waiting in blinds for an opportunity to bring home the main course for the Sunday dinner table.

"Cloudy and cool" weather with no rain likely was the state wide forecast. The weatherman called for winds of 10 to 20 knots.

It was the first time since 1946 that the season opened at sunrise instead of noon. The shift was aimed at greater recreational opportunity for large numbers of hunters who traditionally turn out for opening day, state game officials said.

ENDS NOV. 28

Daily shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset through the final day of the season, Nov. 28, with the exception of Oct. 31. That is the opening day of the small game season, and on that date it will be unlawful to hunt any wild bird or animal prior to 8 a.m. EST.

Hunting is prohibited in Pennsylvania on Sundays. Federal regulations require that duck hunters have on their persons a migratory game bird hunting stamp in addition to a Pennsylvania hunting license. The owner must sign his name in ink across the face of the stamp.

FEATHERED WING

A new federal regulation this year requires that a migratory game bird being transported must have one fully feathered wing so that game officials may distinguish the species.

The daily bag limit for ducks has been set by the federal government at three. However, the daily limit may not include more than the following species: two wood ducks, two mallards, and two canvasbacks or two redheads or one of each.

After opening day, hunters may have in possession no more than six ducks, including not more than the following species: two wood ducks, four mallards, two canvasbacks or two redheads or one of each.

Olympics Opening Is Called The Best

TOKYO (AP) — They keep getting better and better and this must be the best.

That was the comment of Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, of Chicago, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, on the splendid ceremonies Saturday that opened the Olympic Games.

"Rome's was magnificent," said Douglas F. Roby, of Detroit, vice president of the USOC, "but this topped them all. This had the added touches of the school girls releasing the balloons, the drum band of school kids and the five jets forming the Olympic rings."

"A magnificent show," said Max Ritter, of Jenkintown, Pa., treasurer of the USOC, and president of the International Swimming Federation.

Third Game Starters

Jim Bouton Will Face Curt Simmons In Third Game Of World Series

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Sure, I think being home gives us the edge," said New York Manager Yogi Berra. "Especially after we split the first two games in their park."

"The size of Yankee Stadium should help us," said St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane. "There's lots of room here and we've got three fine outfielders who can go get the ball. They can all roam and throw. We don't think we have any defensive problems here at all."

LIKES STADIUM

"I'd rather pitch at Yankee Stadium than at Busch Stadium," said Curt Simmons, Keane's pitching nominee for today's third game of the World Series. "All pitchers like big parks and I'm no exception. Besides, I've pitched better on the road than at home."

"I pitched one inning in the 1963 All-Star game," recalled Jim Bouton, Berra's mound choice for the Yankees' home Series opener. "The Cardinals had three infielders on the team. I think I faced them in that one inning. I got 'em 1-2-3. But maybe they were setting me up for the Series."

PIVOTAL GAME

Thus you have the pregame pronouncements of the principal characters for what traditionally has been the pivotal game of a World Series. The team that has won the third game in the previous 60 Series won the title 38 times.

In sharp contrast to the 30,000 seating capacity of Busch Stadium, the Yankee park holds 69,000 and every seat will be occupied for the next three games here.

The Yankees are ruled a 2-1 favorite in this best-of-seven Series and 8-5 to win today behind the right-handed Bouton, who dropped a 2-1 decision to Los Angeles last year in his only previous World Series assignment. He posted an 18-13 season record.

FIRST IN SERIES

Although Simmons, at 35, is 10 years older than Bouton, and has been pitching in the major leagues since 1950, this will mark his first Series assignment. He had an 18-9 record during the season.

The veteran southpaw just missed out with the 1950 Philadelphia Whiz Kids. He was called into service a month before the Phillies faced the Yankees that fall and was granted leave to pitch batting practice in the Series. The Yankees won that one in four straight.

Fair, cool weather with temperatures in the middle 50s was predicted with a northwest wind of 15 miles per hour. Starting time was 12 noon EST.

WORKOUT FRIDAY

Each club engaged in 1½ hour workout Friday, with a majority of the Cards getting their first look at Yankee Stadium. Only four have ever played there before, Kenny Boyer, Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Roger Craig.

Keane said he would employ the same line-up that was beaten in the second game by young Mel Stottlemyre, with Groat batting third and Bill White fifth. He said Julian Javier was a "very doubtful" starter because of the bruised left hip that kept him out of the starting line-up the first two days.

Berra said no matter what happens today, he plans to come back with Whitey Ford for Sunday's game. Ford, a 10-game World Series winner, was beaten by Ray Sadecki in the opener.

Keane said Sadecki probably would pitch Sunday.

63-Year-Old Emperor Of Japan Officially Opens 18th Olympiad In Tokyo

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito of Japan formally opened the Games of the 18th Olympiad today in a splendid, moving ceremony that mixed the wonders of the modern age with the ancient pagantry of the Orient.

The 63-year-old emperor stood ramrod-straight and solemn in the royal box of 1,169 athletes from 94 nations paraded over the circular red dirt track of the National Stadium, which will serve as the center of the biggest Olympics of them all.

BEGINS SUNDAY

Competition begins Sunday in basketball, field, hockey, soccer, swimming, water polo, weight-lifting and hockey, setting off two weeks of a spirited scramble for gold medals in 20 sports.

The powerful United States and Soviet teams are expected to grab off the major share of the honors in their traditional battle of sports giants, but they were given no special recognition in the colorful march behind national flags.

A packed stadium of 80,000 cheered loudly for the one-man Bolivian team, a single flag-bearer, and rose to applaud the robe-clad entrants from the under-developed nations of Africa.

TORCH BURNS

"I welcome the Eighteenth Modern Olympiad and hereby declare the Tokyo Olympic Games open," the little graying Japanese Emperor proclaimed over the loud speaker system while the Olympic torch burned from atop the Eastern stands.

Five jet planes traced the five rings of the Olympic symbol in the sky in five different colors and rumbling tones came from age-old Japanese drums made from cow hides.

The ceremony was carried out with clock-like precision — typical of the Japanese — in cool, sunny weather without a cloud in the sky.

GRAND WEATHER

The weather broke perfectly after days of rain and fog.

The huge Russian delegation was led by Yuri Vlasov, the 305-pound world heavyweight record-holder in weight lifting who carried the Soviet's hammer and sickle insignia in one hand straight out from the shoulder.

Halfway around the track he shifted from his right to his left hand, but never once did he use both hands.

The Stars and Stripes of the United States also was carried by one of the nation's muscle men—260-pound Parry O'Brien, double gold medalist in the shot put, competing in his fourth Olympics.

10-GALLON HATS

The Americans wore Western style tengallon hats. They were dressed in conservative white pants and skirts and blue jackets.

The men of the huge Russian squad wore continental suits with a double split in the back of their beige coats and the women in smart suits of lighter hue. They waved red handkerchiefs as they circled the track.

One of the most impressive and touching parts of the ceremony came with the raising of the Olympic flag.

The white banner with the five rings — representing five continents — was borne into the stadium by six sailors and hoist-

BROWNS EYING EASTERN LEAD; PLAY TONIGHT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns share one lead while the Pittsburgh Steelers have another all to themselves.

But while the Steelers hope their lead doesn't get any bigger after tonight's National Football League game, the Browns are looking forward to moving into first place without any company.

The differing attitudes of the opponents in the NFL's leadoff contest this weekend are understandable. The Steelers lead the league in most injured linebackers. The Browns are tied with St. Louis for the top spot in the Eastern Conference.

PLAY MONDAY

St. Louis doesn't play until Monday night. At that time the Cardinals will play the Western Conference — leading Baltimore Colts. In Sunday's games, Los Angeles is at Chicago, Detroit at Minnesota, San Francisco at Green Bay, New York at Dallas and Philadelphia at Washington.

The Browns, unbeaten but tied once in four contests, are expected to accomplish their aim. Quarterback Frank Ryan has thrown the second most touchdowns passes this season, nine, while fullback Jimmy Brown is in his customary No. 1 position among rushers, having gained an average of 90 yards a game.

As if Ryan and Brown weren't enough, the Browns will have the Steelers' linebacking problems going for them. Veteran Bob Schmitz, who was expected to fill in for Myron Pottios, has come up with a sprained knee and probably will not play tonight.

HAS BAD KNEE

Schmitz should be joined by Bob Harrison, who is suffering from a bad knee after missing earlier games with a shoulder injury.

That leaves the Steelers with three linebackers, the necessary number, and no regular substitutes. The able-bodied three are rookie Bob Soleau, second-year man Ed Holler and Bill Saul, now in his third season.

The Chicago Bears also are plagued with injuries as they try to get back into the Western Conference race. The Bears, in the cellar with a 1-3 record, may be without three starters for their game with the Rams — center Mike Pyle, fullback Joe Marconi and linebacker Joe Fortunato. All have leg injuries.

MASON INJURED

Tommy Mason, Minnesota's running back, is doubtful for the second straight week, hurting the Vikings' chances against the Detroit Lions, who are tied with the Rams for second in the West.

The Green Bay Packers will have fullback Jim Taylor ready for the improving San Francisco 49ers, who whipped the Bears last week.

The New York Giants may run into trouble at Dallas where quarterback Don Meredith and receiver Buddy Dial will be back in the Cowboy line-up. The teams are tied for sixth in the east with 1-3 records.

Only the Washington Redskins, 0-4, are below them. The Redskins hope to get their first victory against the Philadelphia Eagles.

GREAT FESTIVAL

The huge lighted scoreboard flashed the words: "Citius, Altius, Fortius." Latin for "Faster, Higher, Stronger."

This is the watchword of this great international festival. "We have now bridged every ocean, bringing the Olympics to the Orient," said Avery Brundage, newly re-elected president of the International Olympic Committee, "proving that the Olympics now belong to the world."

A hush went through the stadium when Yoshinori Sakai, the 19-year-old athlete born near Hiroshima on the day the Atomic Bomb was dropped Aug. 6, 1945, dashed through the portals bearing the flame which had been brought by air, land and water from Greece's Mount Olympus, where the Games were born.

He raced over the track easily and then trotted up the 167 steps to the huge cauldron which was immediately set afire, to burn unceasingly until the Games end Oct. 24.

Biglerville High's football team took little time in teaching an old dog, the Greyhound, new tricks as it marched up and down the field all evening to the tune of a 31-13 romp over Shippensburg Friday evening at Biglerville. Approximately 1,800 fans were on hand to witness the Blue Mountain League affair.

From the time the Cannors took the opening kick and marched for their first touchdown they never let up, even when Coach Jack Emanuel inserted his second and third units, something he seldom gets a chance to do. The reserves also gave a performance which made Emanuel smile. They moved the ball well late in the game both on the ground and in the air.

John Pitzer turned out to be the workhorse in the backfield as he continually pounded in, around and through the Greyhound line. Biglerville took the kickoff and on 11 plays, drove 67 yards for its first score. The climax came when Pitzer skirted wide around left and from 15 yards out on his fifth carry of the series.

TAYLOR GOES 46

Just before the first period came to a close, the Cannors took possession on the Shippensburg 49 via a punt. On the second play from scrimmage, fullback Terry Taylor blasted off left guard and dashed 46 yards to the series.

That leaves the Steelers with three linebackers, the necessary number, and no regular substitutes. The able-bodied three are rookie Bob Soleau, second-year man Ed Holler and Bill Saul, now in his third season.

the one-yard line where, on the next play, he banged over for the score and Biglerville led 12-0.

The second period was devoted to fumbling the ball by the Cannors offense while the defense was picking off Greyhound materials. At intermission, the host club still maintained its 12-0 margin. It took the Cannors just 2:42 minutes of the third period to score their third six-pointer. Shippensburg was unable to move the ball on three downs and punted. Biglerville took over on its 46. Taylor hit the line for a yard and Pitzer followed, after a slight bobble on the handoff, with a perfect slant off left tackle and a 53-yard streak to paydirt.

With 1:50 to go in the stanza, the Cannors were over the Greyhound goal line for the fourth time. The score was set up when Charlie Hess recovered a Bill Hancock fumble to give Biglerville possession on the Shippensburg 40. It took Emanuel's crew nine plays to sweep the opposition out of the way. Barry Jacoby, in the starting halfback role, carried the ball over for the last four yards. This time Bob Cover gave Biglerville its first extra point on a perfect placement.

WYCKOFF BLOCKS PUNT

Biglerville closed out its scoring parade with a touchdown just 48 seconds into the final frame. Tackle Dan Wyckoff blocked a Dave Pelka punt and the Cannors gained possession on the opponent's 42. Taylor pushed the pigskin to the 39 from where quarterback Gregg Dixon threw a perfect fake, then picked up a perfect block from Pitzer and galloped 39 yards for the score.

Shippensburg landed its two scores midway through the last period when Emanuel went the rest of the game with his reserve power. Biglerville lost possession on the Shippensburg 37. Two plays later the ball was resting on the Greyhound 44 where Hancock, on a pitchout from Pelka, faked back and hit end Tom Eastep on the Biglerville 28. Eastep then side stepped the out of bound line and dashed into the end zone for the score. Tom Ginnick kicked the point.

Three minutes later, after an exchange of fumbles and interceptions, Ginnick recovered a Fair fumble on the Biglerville 34. On the first play Pelka landed a pass in the open arms of Clair Steward covering the 34-yard scoring play.

Biglerville's ground attack was at its best. The Cannors were exceptionally quick throughout the contest. Biglerville rolled up 331 yards rushing to the opponent's 88. The Cannors also hit on five of six passes for 75 more yards while Shippensburg connected on three of 12 for 99 yards.

Biglerville, 3-2 overall and 8-1 in the BML, will entertain East Pennsboro in another tough

Dairymen Are Urged To Try Production Testing Program During October

By THOMAS E. PIPER

Adams County dairymen should begin some type of a production testing program in October. There are two major reasons for this:

Thomas E. Piper

First, the majority of the herd are fall fresheners, and by starting a testing program in the fall, dairymen will have complete lactation records for the majority of the herd. Second, the DHIA State Association year begins during the month of October. This means that by beginning a testing program now, the dairymen's herd records start at a time to coincide with the State Association year. His records will then be summarized annually along with other herds throughout the state.

Dairymen in Adams County have a choice of two record keeping systems. There is the standard DHIA program in which a trained supervisor weighs each cow's milk monthly and analyzes it for the butter fat content. Records of each cow are processed electronically at the Pennsylvania State University and returned to dairymen each month.

OWNER-SAMPLER

The second system of record keeping is the owner-sampler plan. This program is similar to the standard DHIA plan except that the dairyman takes the monthly milk weights of each cow.

The county extension agents or DHIA supervisors are eager to discuss a testing program best suited to fit each dairyman's needs. DHIA supervisors in Adams County are: Barry Jacobs, East Berlin R. 1, and Stanford Roberts, New Oxford R. 2.

As outside temperatures drop, indoor fire dangers rise! National Fire Protection Association records show that cold weather always brings an increase in destructive fires.

Heating systems are mainly to blame. When they're pushed hard in the cold weather any weakness in the equipment or installation may show up — sometimes with disastrous results. Any faulty practices in using and fueling heaters, especially portable kerosene units, mean trouble.

To reduce fire hazards as well as fuel bills, all furnaces and heaters need a periodic cleaning and checkup. Likewise flue pipes should be kept clean, free of holes and weak spots, well supported and away from combustibles. Make sure they are spaced far enough from nearby surfaces to prevent overheating. Check chimneys for cracks and loose bricks and, if used for coal or wood fires, a yearly cleaning is a must.

CHECK HEATERS

Refueling portable oil heaters calls for care. Never fill while they are burning or still hot, and avoid overfilling. If cold oil is used watch for possible burner flooding and flare-up.

Keep portable heaters out of halls and away from doors or stairs where they might block escape. See that they are not placed too near curtains, clothes racks and other combustibles. Don't buy or keep tippy heaters.

If your heating equipment — and your handling practices — aren't already checked and ready for the winter, get busy now during Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10. Your family and farm will be safer from fire.

SALVAGE WET CORN

Because so much is involved, there is no single set of answers to wet corn questions which applies to all farms. Some considerations in deciding what harvesting or storage facilities would be most efficient and economical are: Prevailing weather conditions, size of corn acreage, whether corn is to be fed or sold as a cash crop and condition of equipment and buildings now in use.

There are five basic systems for handling corn as grain: Each ear corn can be field dried, or crib dried using unheated forced air. Shelled corn can be dried in storage using supplemental heat, or batch-dried before being moved to storage. High moisture corn can be stored in sealed silos.

SOME LIMITATIONS

Each system has advantages and some limitations. Mechanization for a minimum of manual handling is generally possible. The shift to shelled-corn harvesting enables farm operators to harvest corn a few weeks earlier than normal ear corn harvest. Field losses are reduced, and weather conditions are usually more favorable. Also, less storage space is required for shelled corn and the finished product is ready for market or can be fed automatically to livestock and poultry.

Shifting to shelled-corn harvesting may not prove economical or feasible where small acreages are harvested. New harvesting, storage and drying equipment must be purchased or arrangements made for custom harvesting and drying. Each farm usually has different conventional problems and the changes involved should be carefully studied before a new harvesting method is seriously considered.

WILL DEPORT RUSSIA SPIES

NEW YORK (AP) — A Russian and his wife, central figures in the cold war's hottest spy case in recent years, will be deported to Czechoslovakia, if Czechoslovakia will have them.

Their deportation was ordered Friday by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. The couple, Alexandre Sokolov, 41, and his wife, 34, had waived deportation proceedings at a hearing Wednesday with a request to go to Czechoslovakia.

However, the Immigration Service said it did not know when the Sokolovs would leave this country since their departure hinges on whether the Czech government will accept them.

The couple's trial here on espionage charges was halted in its fifth day last week on orders from Washington. The only reason given was that it was "in the interest of national security."

It was believed that the government did not wish to divulge in open court such matters as the identity of U.S. counterespies and other secrets of cold-war counterintelligence.

They will remain in custody pending deportation.

BRYAN IS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Joseph Francis Bryan Jr., 26, an exconvict and former mental patient, was sentenced to life imprisonment Thursday in the kidnapping of a 10-year-old South Carolina boy who was found dead in Florida.

The slender, brown-haired Audubon Park, N.J., man showed no emotion when he heard sentence passed by Judge J. Robert Martin Jr.

Bryan pleaded guilty Wednesday to the kidnapping of Johnny Robison who disappeared Feb. 27 from his home in suburban Mount Pleasant. The boy's body was found March 31 in a mangrove swamp near Hallandale, Fla.

Bryan also faces prosecution in New Jersey, Florida and Tennessee in connection with the kidnapping of three other children, two of whom were also found dead.

He is listed as a suspect in the deaths of David Wulff, 8, Willingboro, N.J., and Louis (Hackie) Wilson, 7, St. Petersburg, Fla. And he is charged with kidnapping Dennis Burke, Humboldt, Tenn.

WILL DRAFT 560

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania draft called for December will be 560 men. State Selective Service headquarters said Friday the commonwealth quota will be part of a nationwide call for 7,800 men in December. The November quota for Pennsylvania is 615, for October, 506.

AGED WOMAN KILLED

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Nellie Benner, 72, of Lemont was struck by a car and killed Friday night as she was crossing Route 26, about five miles north of here. State police identified the driver as John McCoy Caldwell, 16, of Bellefonte.

FARM BUREAU'S NEW, VITAMIN PACKED, LIQUID PROTEIN SUPPLEMENT ACHIEVES A 33% PROTEIN BOOST IN THE RATIO OF RUMINANT ANIMALS

LPS reduces actual cash outlay for feed
LPS supplies required Vitamins A and D2
LPS increases needed phosphorus intake
LPS is non-volatile and safe to handle

What is LPS and how does it work? Although LPS combines a long-recognized feeding principle with a new patented method of formulation, more than seven years of research and testing have gone into its development.

Basically LPS stimulates rumen action and improves the digestive process for more complete and efficient utilization of low protein feeds. By

PHOSPHORUS ADDITIVE WORKS DOUBLE DUTY YEAR-ROUND

The liquid phosphoric acid added to the LPS formula is the magic mixer and is vital to maintaining livestock health.

Phosphorus is necessary for bone and tissue development, but according to results of 5-year tests conducted by Pennsylvania State University the soil of Pennsylvania is low in this vital mineral; therefore a phosphoric feed additive is necessary.

employing a urea-molasses combination, a 33% protein boost is achieved during rumination. The conversion of simple inorganic nitrogen, furnished by the urea, into protein is accomplished by the rumen bacteria when the feed ration has sufficient starch. That necessary starch, or energy is supplied by the molasses in the form of soluble sugars in LPS and from your own grain mixture.

For more nutrition and added health benefits, stabilized Vitamins A and D2 and trace minerals are added to the exclusive LPS formula and blended by a patented process. This blending process "locks in" all the ingredients and prevents separation.

In addition, phosphorus reduces the viscosity of LPS and keeps it free-flowing, even in sub-freezing weather. Secondly, it creates a slight acid reaction in the formula that makes LPS undesirable to flies, bees and other hot weather insects normally attracted by molasses, but does not affect its palatability and appetizing appeal for livestock.

It's Full Circle For "The Fantasticks" And Its First Heroine, Susan Watson; Bert Lahr CoStar

"Lunch time!"

The dancers scatter first.

Then the starry circle clustered in the middle of the Lower East Side rehearsal hall — around Director George Schaefer — breaks up for 60 minutes.

Bert Lahr and Stanley Holloway, new friends who seem to have known each other a lifetime, go off arm in arm debating the local question: "Shall it be Chinese today or the Kosher delicatessen?"

Ricardo Montalban and juvenile lead, John Davidson, seem to vaporize in different directions.

ALONG COMES SUSAN

Then along comes lovely Susan Watson, five feet two and the only gal in the group.

"It's only going to take me a couple of minutes longer!" That's because an interview is an interview, and a restaurant is a restaurant . . . and she wouldn't feel she was doing right by either unless she changed from rehearsal pants into a dress. Bless her rare breed.

By Friday, they'll all have gotten into the colorful costumes, on the simplified farm setting in the big NBC color studios in Brooklyn, for the live taping of the latest — and most illustrious — version of "The Fantasticks" which takes to the air as the Hall of Fame season-opener, Sunday, October 18, 10-11 p.m.

SUSIE THE FIRST

Suppose you're casting this television version of "The Fantasticks" . . . which has been, to repeat a term, a fantastic hit. It's set the off-Broadway record. Four years. It's already been performed by something like 200 companies. It seems to have something for everybody, this charming musical about two fathers who conspire at

"The Fantasticks," which started as "off-Broadway" has graduated to a cast of three veteran stars and two bright newcomers for its television version Sunday, October 18 (NBC, 10 p.m., color). (Left to right) John Davidson, Bert Lahr, Susan Watson, Stanley Holloway. Not present: Ricardo Montalban who plays "El Gallo," the narrator.

matchmaking by pretending to be against it.

You need the right girl. Consider Susan Watson! At 24 she looks like 16.

She sings well; declined one opera scholarship but did study at Juilliard, has appeared on the stage in musical comedy, and made quite a TV smash on the Telephone Hour.

She's a good actress. Handled the sensitive lead of Lili in "Carnival," fast-talked herself into understudying "West Side Story."

GOOD DANCER

Good dancer. Studied with Hanya Holm and Jerome Robbins.

But more to the point. Susan Watson is the girl who played in the very first version of "The Fantasticks" ever. That was back in 1958 when it was one-actor trying out in the summer at the Barnard College Theater.

And how did she get hired in the first place? Same reason she almost didn't get hired in the last place. She knew somebody, who knew somebody.

"The sister of a boy friend suggested I see Tom Jones who with his partner Harvey Schmidt were ready to try their musical based on Rostand's 'Les Romantiques.' I was just back from doing West Side Story in London. It was too late to get stock jobs . . . and though this was only for a week, it sounded fine.

SIGNED FOR BROADWAY

"By the time they were ready for off-Broadway casting, I'd signed for on-Broadway in 'Bye-Bye Bridge' so that let me out that time.

"But I had to keep my fingers crossed when the television version came up! Now that I'm married I find I love doing television. It lets me stay in New York where my husband and I live in a Greenwich Village brownstone.

"I love keeping house and doing my own marketing. Furthermore, as long as I stay here I can take classes.

"My father had wanted me to get my degree while I was it . . . but as always he said, 'It's up to you.'"

STAR STUFF

"Suffer, suffer, suffer" may make stars of some.

"If, like Susie, you come from a happy family, you find that work, work, work will get you there just as fast . . . and of course in better shape.

"I was born in Oklahoma, but Dad's a geologist so we got around. We lived for a while in Nassau, then it was back to Oklahoma for high school." She learned clarinet for the orchestra, practiced her dancing and singing, got leads in all the school plays and ended up with a scholarship to study opera.

She bypassed it, though, to come East. "A chorus job in Kansas got me my Equity card. That gave me professional status."

FOLKS SAID YES

Then it was New York. The folks said "yes" only because another school chum was also braving the big city. "They gave us permission to come if we stayed at a safe place. Though they were Episcopalian, they chose a home run by Hungarian nuns.

"On my very first day, at the home, a girl invited me to a cocktail party with a blind date, Norton Wright, who was then attending Yale." After that he went into the Air Force, came out of the Air Force, became associate producer of "Captain Kangaroo" and "a year ago last Christmas we were married in the lovely community church in Chappaqua."

NO NEPOTISM

"It was Norton's sister who'd introduced me to Tom Jones at the time of the original 'Fan-tasticks.' But since then she's become Mrs. Tom Jones and that now makes him my brother-in-law."

And that's why the best qualified gal almost didn't make it! No nepotism for him.

"I auditioned three times to make sure everybody insisted I was right for the part!" Luckily, everybody insisted.

Many Studios Across Ocean Rebroadcast Warren Report

Strong world-wide interest in the facts set forth by the Warren Commission report is further evidenced by the number of requests NBC International has received for rebroadcast of its September 27 special hour-long coverage.

International coverage became available the day after with the BBC being the first to clear special time on the 28th.

Among the other government broadcasting agencies ordering rebroadcasts were Irish TV, Scottish TV, Swedish TV, Swiss TV, German TV, Australian TV, Japanese TV, Nigerian TV, Puerto Rican TV, Mexican TV and Venezuela TV.

DINAH, TEEN-AGERS

The first of the four variegated "specials" Dinah Shore is doing for ABC will find the famed songstress fox-trotting her way through the "Swim" and a sea of teen-agers.

Fox-trotting with Miss Shore will be The Fugitive himself, David Janssen. And just to keep things in the family, right in the "Swim" will be Dinah's teen-age daughter, Missy.

It all takes off at 9:30 Saturday night (October 17) in a slot pre-empted for the occasion from "Hollywood Palace."

Two other guests, in addition to Janssen, are George Gobel and Rose Marie. And Rose

"Peyton Place" Is Daring Experiment In Soap Opera For Night-Time Audience

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's most daring experiment these days is on ABC and is called "Peyton Place," after a book of the same name. The daring, however, is not in the subject matter nor in the format, which is good, gray soap. It is the fact that "Peyton Place" must have a completely faithful audience to survive — and the night-time television audience is notoriously fickle.

The series had its premiere Sept. 15. Other pressing television-viewing chores kept me away from that emotion-tossed New England community for three weeks. But when I returned Tuesday night, it was obvious that I was a stranger in town.

Why had Constance MacKenzie, who had been showing signs of being neurotically possessive about her daughter Alison, suddenly become so reconciled to her daughter's interest in handsome Rod, who acts like a spoiled bounder? Where did Constance meet Dr. Rossi and is it a romance? Why is Betty trying so frantically to tell something important to Rod? Why does he ignore her?

UNUSUAL IN EVENING

It was all completely incomprehensible to one who had not been curled up with ABC every Tuesday and Thursday for the past three weeks.

The soap opera pace — leisurely and slow — is unusual in evening television, whose shows usually move right into the plot, tell it fast and wind it up before the last commercial. In "Peyton Place" the characters amble along by way of long, introspective conversations and meaningful looks.

"Peyton Place" follows the daytime form faithfully. It is an almost completely static show. The characters stand or sit around and they talk and talk and talk.

A viewer who has been hooked by the daytime soaps for years once said that the way to get the habit was to watch one show faithfully for a week, thus getting involved with the lives of the characters. It would take longer than a week with "Peyton Place," and it seems like a painful ordeal anyway.

Danny Kaye To Get Many Guests

Imogene Coca, who appeared on the same borscht belt revue with Danny when they were both starting their careers, will be guest star on at least five of his shows this season now that her situation series, "Grindl," has concluded.

Another frequent guest will be read-haired singer-dancer Gwen Verdon. She'll do four appearances. She too worked with him at a previous stage in their careers. She recalls, "On a picture called 'On the Riviera' I was the assistant choreographer. Danny Kaye was the star." Afterwards she hit it big herself as star of "Damn Yankees" with Ray Walston.

This year, as last, the Kaye program will be seen Wednesdays, 10-11 p.m. on CBS. Also on the guest list, in addition to Imogene, are two other fellow comics from the old Sid Caesar shows: Howard Morris and Pat Carroll. Other guests who've signed are: Shari Lewis, Diahann Carroll, Pearl Bailey, Paul Ford, Jason Robards Jr., Lauren Bacall and Nat "King" Cole.

Many Studios

Marie is bringing a guest . . . her teen-age daughter, Nupe. One of the skits will find Dinah, Missy and Nupe in a "nostalgic mother-daughter segment" wherein Dinah explains a 78 rpm record to the girls.

DIALING AROUND

Says comic Marty Ingels . . . "Comedians' wives are a wonderful special breed, gentle, sweet, patient. There must be a special school for them somewhere." In addition to his own beautiful bride he has raving admiration for "Jerry Lewis' Patty, Danny Thomas' Rosemary, Red Skelton's Georgia."

Keeping characters in character is partly the job of the wardrobe department. And so . . . we hear it cost $500 to make a sheet that would sort of fit Julie Newman in her "My Living Doll" role. While on the other network the competing show's "Bonanza" must be salting it away. Lorne Greene and his boys seem to have only two outfits apiece, "dress-up Western togs" which get comparatively little use, and hard-ridden everyday garb which must be pretty gamy after all these years.

Rafer Johnson, a hero of the 1960 Olympics and winner of the decathlon gold medal, set a new Olympic record of 8,392 points. This time he's there only to observe and tell as part of NBC's Olympic's cove age team. By now, though, he's probably more at home on T than in the arena. At non-Olympic time, his activities include movie and television acting. He's also director of the West Coast People-to-People program.

HONORED THE HONORED

Perry Mason stepped out of character and went back to being real-life Raymond Burr when he emceed the first Medal of Honor dinner saluting the 200 living holders of the nation's highest valor award.

Attending dignitaries included former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Shirley Temple Is Being Lured For Television Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another career for Shirley Temple? It could happen.

In the 1930s Shirley became the most successful child star in the history of the movies. Later she made the transition to young-lady roles in films like "The Bachelor and The Bobby-soxer" and "Since You Went Away."

After the failure of her marriage to John Agar, Shirley retired to become Mrs. Charles Black, wife of a business executive. Four years ago she returned to acting with her own television show, on which she introduced and occasionally starred in fairy tales.

LURED BY TWO

Now ABC and 20th Century-Fox are trying to induce her to return for a weekly series. She was in Hollywood a month ago for talks at Fox, which she kept solvent in the depression years.

Via telephone from her home at Woodside, south of San Francisco, she commented: "We've been talking about a series since last March, but so far I haven't seen a script. So I can't really decide until I do."

"But I think I would enjoy doing a series. My family likes it when I'm away. At least Charlie says I'm easier to live with when I'm working. And my children are always interested when I'm doing some acting. So I've got some fans rooting for me, anyway."

KEEPS BUSY

Shirley, now 35, said she wouldn't mind the travel. Los Angeles is only 50 minutes away by jet, she pointed out, and she got used to the 400-mile commuting during her two-year run with her previous series.

Even without the acting, Shirley keeps busy, as she has all her life. She has been working in educational television in San Francisco. She serves regularly in a children's day clinic. And she was recently made an honorary governor of the San Francisco chapter of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

"All my activities are in the morning," she explained. "I'm home by 2 when the children start to come home."

The children are Susan, 16, and a high school senior; Charlie, 12, and Lori, 10. None displays any yen to follow their mother's profession, although Susan is devoted to ballet.

Emmaline Henry, Mickey Rooney's costar, says her "favorite star" hasn't changed since she was in pigtails. It's John Wayne. And though she now lives in Hollywood, she hasn't met him since she was in pigtails and journeyed miles to get his autograph when he was appearing for charity. She recalls she rushed so she forgot to bring pen, paper or money for the donation. Wayne leaned down from his palomino, rustled up some of each and scrawled "To the girl who has nothing." "He was really so kind, I don't mind leaving the memory just the way it is. And I can always enjoy his pictures."

Separating the fact from the fiction gets pretty complicated these days for fans of "The Doctors." On screen Dr. Maggie (Ann Williams) has had a rocky time with romance ever since her sister Nora (Joan Anderson) took Matt (James Pritchett) away.

But for the real-life Ann, it's real-life moonlight, roses and a September wedding to Robert D. P. Welch of Boston.

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

FAREWELL TO THE FURNACE

Electrical Heating Saves Space

"We don't have to have a man come and clean the furnace this year.

"Why?

"Because we don't have a furnace any more and we never had such perfect heating in all our lives."

Five years ago that might have sounded like part one of "Riddle Me This." Today it could be any one of nearly two million American home owners who've discovered the practical miracle of complete electrical home heating system.

—Quality Worth It—

Says one of the area's leading electrical contractors:

"Heavy-duty housepower wiring and electrical heating, even the installation costs, are most reasonable in themselves.

"But if by chance insulation has been stinted, put whatever money you have to into bringing it up to standards."

There are several very sound reasons:

- Maximum heating is delivered to the rooms, right where you want it. Good construction is an ally to your using the heat instead of wasting it through leaky windows or too scanty wall or ceiling insulation.

- The heating system can be expected to last the life of the house . . . so you won't have to re-do it.

- Electrical heating is a well-built house holds up its value.

—Equipment Inconspicuous—

In addition to the space-saving effected by "no furnace" considerable room space is salvaged too. There are no bulky radiators. The three most popular types for this part of the country are:

- Electrical Baseboards. Not much thicker than an ordinary baseboard they pose no interference to decorating and furniture arrangement. If a flush wall appearance is preferred, electrical baseboards can be recessed.
- Radiant Ceiling Cable. This is actually invisible since it is covered by plaster.
- Wall Panels. In this area these are more apt to be used in conjunction with electric baseboards or ceiling cable for certain locations.

QUESTION BOX

Q. Are requirements for home construction utilizing electrical heating the same the country over?

A. Since we're not sure if the question means the standards for electrical heating equipment and the installation of it . . . or if you are asking about the established insulation standards, we'll try to answer both.

Quality equipment and installation (by an experienced electrical contractor) have to meet a common standard to be eligible for the Gold Medallion.

As far as the recommended insulation for electrically heated homes, that has been established in relation to climate.

Taking basement wall insulation as a guide here are the recommendations for the three climate zones in the United States:

—Usually mild winters (such as Atlanta-Dallas)—R-7.

—Usually normal winters (such as New York-St. Louis)—R-8.

—Usually sever winters (such as Buffalo-Minneapolis)—R-11. In some portions of a dwelling there is also a range recommended. It is up to the expert who knows the terrain to determine whether the minimum or maximum should be used.

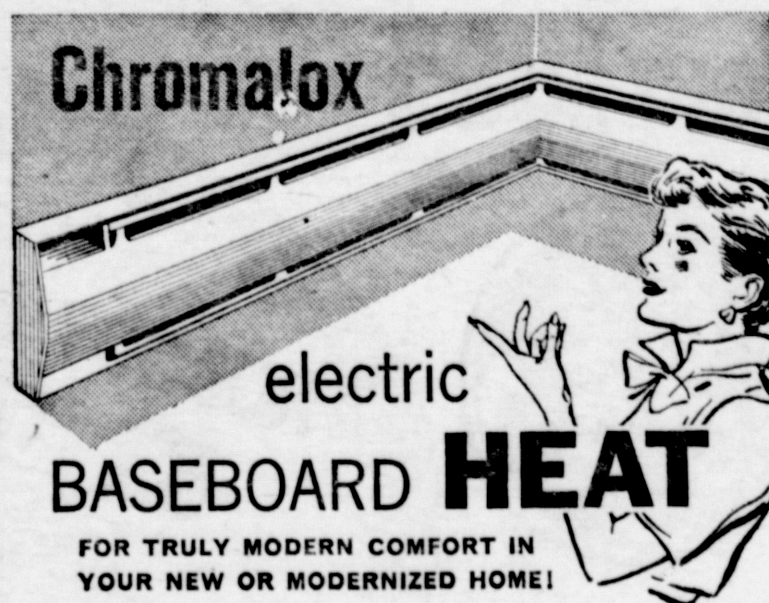

Q. Is electrical heating primarily for small home use?

A. No, it's proven an amazingly fast growing trend in private homes . . . and not just small ones.

However, it's also proven practical and popular in large structures. Chicago's new skyscraper-twin apartment are totally heated by electricity. So are many schools, hospitals, factories and commercial structures around the country.

Q. When is the best time of the year to convert to electrical heating?

A. Any time. We always say, "the sooner the better." Actually almost as many conversions are done in the winter as in the summer.

- More Usable Space
- Quiet Operation
- Individual Room Control
- Even Temperature
- Clean Beyond Compare

"STOP" . . . before you choose a heating system for your home.

Chromalox installation costs average 20% to 60% lower than cumbersome, outmoded heating systems. Check benefits above and phone the dealers listed at bottom of page.
